

Aero Club of East Africa

Since 1927

A sepia-toned photograph of a vintage biplane. A pilot is visible in the cockpit. The aircraft is positioned diagonally across the frame. The text 'BECOME A MEMBER OF ONE OF THE OLDEST FLYING CLUBS' is overlaid in white, bold, sans-serif capital letters. The word 'Miss' is partially visible in cursive script on the side of the fuselage.

About us

The Aero Club of East Africa was founded in Kenya in 1927. Built alongside Nairobi's Wilson Airport, the club featured prominently in 20th century African aeronautical history.

Its founding members included 24 pilots and aviation enthusiasts, who stated that the club's objectives were "To promote, encourage and regulate aeronautics in Kenya, and to provide information and advice about aviation to all authorities and persons as might be required."

In 1936 club member Beryl Markham was the first person to fly across the Atlantic Ocean from the east to the west, and in response the Aero Club gifted her lifelong membership.[2] [5] Markham had first learned to fly at the club in 1929.

Joining an exclusive club has never been easier than it is right now. Located at the Wilson Airport, the Aero Club of East Africa was established in 1927 and featured prominently in the 20th century African aeronautical history.

We pride ourselves on being one of the oldest flying clubs in the World. More than just a club house with associated facilities, we are a group of like-minded people with a common love for aviation.

Aircraft parking, modern rooms, incredible ambiance and endless fun are the wonderful amenities offered daily to our membership. So, whether it's spending time with old friends or making new ones, the Aero Club is the ideal place to do just that.
